

C
L645K

McMinnville College Bulletin

Vol. IX.

JULY, 1912.

Number 3.

Published quarterly by McMinnville College and entered March 2, 1904, at McMinnville, Oregon, as second-class matter under Act of Congress of July 16, 1894.

What Our Students Think of "Old Mac"

McMinnville College has a loyal body of students. They have come from widely separated communities with ideas and customs vastly differing, yet in "Old Mac" they have found an object of common admiration and love. In the following letters they gladly speak that whereof they know.

Prineville, Oregon

Surprised to Find So Many in One Place

Dear President:

I wish you would thank the members of the Faculty, for me, for their Chapel talks. I know I have received good from every one of them, and not only from their talks but from the lives which they live from day to day,—the sympathy they show for all students, their kindness in helping them on to better things and to see life from the unselfish point of view. Of course I knew there were such men and women in the world, but what surprised me was to find so many of them in one place.

Yours very truly,

JOHN MABEN.

Pasadena, California

Just the Kind of School I was Looking for, and I found it Even Better than I Expected

This is my third year in McMinnville College. I came here from Pasadena, California. It is a long distance to come especially when one is surrounded by good schools in California, but from all accounts McMinnville College seemed to be just the kind of school I was looking for, and I have found it even better than I expected. The courses of study are thorough, both in the College and the Conservatory. There is everything to make a student's life pleasant. If possible I expect to be back next year.

Very sincerely,

J. EVALYN BURLINGAME.

Biggs, California

Long Distance From My Home—Fully Repaid for the Trip

This is my first year at McMinnville College and it has been a very pleasant one. I am quite a long distance from my home in Biggs, California, but I have found the students and Professors so congenial that I have been fully repaid for the trip. The Conservatory is splendid and the College very thorough. If you are expecting to come here to school I am sure you will never regret it.

MARJORIE J. BROUGH.

Berkeley, California

The Best Year of My Life

Although this is my first year in McMinnville College it has been the best year of my life. The high ideals, moral, spiritual and educational that are held up before the students have given me higher ideals and purposes. Although not a Baptist and having seen much of State and denominational colleges in this State and California, I consider McMinnville College to be the best of any I have seen.

Sincerely,

GLYNN C. BRISTOL.

Goodsprings, Nevada

The Standard of Morals and Christian Atmosphere Beyond Reproach

I came to McMinnville College from the extreme southern part of Nevada, about 2,100 miles by rail. Some friends called my attention to this College and spoke most highly of it, but I little dreamed that it was better than its reputation. I came here because I wanted to be in a good moral atmosphere and associated with Christian students. I have found the standard of morals and Christian atmosphere beyond reproach. I have never heard a filthy or obscene remark made by a student, or seen a student smoking on the campus.

Yours sincerely,

M. C. SMITHSON.

Centralia, Washington

College May Be Small, But its "Faculty Delivers the Goods."

Dear Professor:

It was by an act of providence, I think, more than anything else that I came to McMinnville College. I had always been under the impression that the College was about the same as a Theological Seminary, but it is not. I have found a fine body of students, full of unbounded enthusiasm for "Old Mac." Everybody here is here for all there is in it. We cannot help but work. The moral influence in this town is the best I have ever known. The school has put a new vigor in my veins, made me more of a man and decided my life work. It has caused me more than ever to wish to walk on the higher paths of life. This College may be considered small, but its Faculty "delivers the goods."

Yours truly,

GEORGE JAY GALVIN.

North Yakima, Washington

The Best Place for Me Still

I came to McMinnville College because I believed it was the best place for me to secure a college education. That was three years ago. I am still of the same belief:

J. ALLEN JEFFERY.

Lind, Washington

Combination of all Features which Make up the Ideal College

I have found that McMinnville College is by far the best college in the West for college training. In McMinnville College there is a combination of all those features which go to make up the ideal college. The grade of instruction received here is of the very best as I believe the Faculty cannot be surpassed in any institution in the country. The moral influence and surroundings are of the highest character and I believe that a more ideal town than McMinnville, Oregon, for a college could not be found. If you ever come to McMinnville College there will be no question as to where to go next year or to finish a college education.

LUTHER R. TAYLOR.

Littell, Washington

Every Fellow is a Friend to the Other Fellow

After two years at McMinnville College I went to the University of _____, one semester for the reason that I had a position near there which partially paid my expenses. My reasons for returning to McMinnville College were the following:

1. A Christian atmosphere. At the University moral life is very rotten. All sorts of immorality are practiced by the majority of the students. There is little religious life. The Y. M. C. A. is large but has surrendered too far to be effective. Religion is tolerated, but scarcely welcomed. At McMinnville the moral life is on a very high plane. Nearly all the students are Christians and are active at it. Profanity and smoking are very rare. I have not seen a student smoking or heard an oath or vile story from a student for weeks. Twenty per cent of the students are planning for the ministry or the mission field.

2. A higher intellectual life. I find better work done in the class-room except possibly in some of the more advanced branches which are only occasionally offered here. Most of the work at a large school is done by assistants who may not be very capable. The greater part of my work at the University was done with men very near the top, yet I consider most of it inferior to similar work at McMinnville. Then the small class, ten to twenty as we have at McMinnville, is much superior to a class of fifty to 170, as some of those at the University.

3. A better social life. At McMinnville every fellow is a friend to every other fellow and you are welcome anywhere. At the University life is divided into Fraternity, Dormitory and Outside and each is exclusive. The good fellowship of a small school is lacking.

4. A less expensive life. My expenses at McMinnville are only from sixty to seventy-five per cent as high as at the University notwithstanding its free tuition.

5. The denominational tie. A person who attends his denominational school has fellowship with his own church people which can be obtained in no other way. Then a diploma from his church school gives weight to his recommendation of church schools.

CLOICE R. HOWD.

New Plymouth, Idaho

Our Professors are our Friends and are "True Blue."

I am in McMinnville College and intend to finish my course here primarily because of the thoroughness of the instruction, the healthy social life and the ideals for which the college stands. All class work is thorough. There is no "sliding" thro. We get credit for what we do. The Professors show no favors and are personally acquainted with all the students. At any time if we experience any difficulty the Professors cheerfully assist us. The social life is all that could be desired. It is not one continual round of elaborate functions, but a moderate indulgence which adds polish to the character and education, and yet not so costly that it tends to make college life prohibitive.

All these things are made possible because of the kind of teachers that makes up the Faculty, and the perfect unity existing between them and the student body. Our aims are mutual, our success is shared alike. Our instructors are respected and loved not because they are Professors but because they are our friends and are "true blue."

Yours sincerely,

ERNEST G. DAY.

Washington, D. C.

Continual Emphasis is Placed upon All-around Development

Dear President:

Upon the advice of my Bible class teacher who knew of the educational advantages and wholesome Christian environment of McMinnville, and after a brief correspondence with yourself, I decided to come here. I have never once regretted the step, but rather unceasingly thank God for it. The one thing among many that I like about our school is that continual emphasis is placed upon all-around development, the attainment of a well-balanced Christian manhood and womanhood. This high ideal held so constantly before us, leaves its indelible impress upon our lives and will make us well equipped to take up our work when we leave here. Aside from the advantages derived from a thorough course of study, I count the four years of association with our splendid Faculty and fine body of students, the greatest blessing and privilege of my life.

Yours sincerely,

EVERETT S. BURKET

Barotac, Viego, Iloila, P. I.

That Was Enough for Me

My home is in the Philippine Islands and I came to America to secure an higher education. My first destination was McMinnville College but I thought I would like a larger school so I went for three months to one of the largest

State schools, but that was enough for me, for I could not obtain a thorough training. I am now back in McMinnville College which maintains a high moral, intellectual and religious influence which is guiding me into an earnest study and good character and which will bring me into great happiness.

Yours respectfully,
RUFINO B. TUGBANG.

Paonia, Colorado

Not An Ecclesiastical Nursery of Intellectual Milk-Sops

Dear Friend:

The first day I came to McMinnville I was extremely dissatisfied. The next day I decided to leave, so bought my ticket and boarded my train. Professor Boughton, our Registrar, hearing that some students were leaving, jumped on the train and persuaded me to get off and stay for just one day more. He prevailed and we jumped off after the train was well under way. I have never regretted a single day's stay since during my two years at McMinnville College.

We have here wholesome athletics, all social advantages, a curriculum of the highest standard, a Faculty of recognized ability and merit and a student body of genuine Christian men and women.

This is not a theological seminary at all, nor yet an ecclesiastical nursery of intellectual milk-sops,—but if you want that ideal development of soul, mind and body that should characterize a college man or woman, I pray you consider well McMinnville College.

GEORGE STEWART, JR.

Vancouver, British Columbia

Anyone Coming to McMinnville College will Have a Good Time

This is my second term at McMinnville College. The first was a very pleasant one, and that is saying a good deal for the College. I was made to feel at home from the first although a perfect stranger. The studies both in College and Conservatory are very interesting and practical. The social side of the College life is also a big feature and that means a great deal to those away from home, and I think that any one coming to McMinnville College will have a good time.

ELSIE R. MORGAN.

Roseburg, Oregon

Advantages Offered Here Second to Those of No Other Institution

I feel it my duty from the standpoint of value received to say a few good things about McMinnville College. I am taking Commercial work, and anyone desiring to take a course of study in this line will find the advantages offered here second to those of no other institution. This is considering it from the thorough instruction, work covered and low cost. The great benefit derived from a Commercial Department so closely associated with the College is a thing that cannot be underestimated. Much has been said about the social and moral atmosphere of this College, but no more than is justly due. One has only to visit this place to be convinced that there is no finer body of young people to be found anywhere.

Yours truly,
J. W. PENTNEY.

COME AND SEE FOR YOURSELF

Such enthusiastic letters could be increased to the number of 200, our enrolment for this year. The best of it all is that every statement made is strictly true. McMinnville College invites any young man or woman into whose hands this Bulletin falls to come and see if in the above letters the half has yet been told of the excellent advantages of McMinnville College. The new catalogue and other literature, including the new Student's Handbook, containing College Yells, Songs, etc., will be sent upon application to PRESIDENT LEONARD W. RILEY, McMinnville, Oregon.

FALL TERM OPENS SEPTEMBER 18, 1912.

C
L645K

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS LIBRARY
JAN 11 1918

McMinnville College Bulletin

VOL. IX.

SEPTEMBER, 1913.

NO. IV.

Published quarterly by McMinnville College and entered March 2, 1904, at McMinnville, Oregon, as second-class matter under Act of Congress of July 16, 1894.

Rev. Walter Benwell Hinson, D. D.

It is a pleasure to announce that Dr. W. B. Hinson of The White Temple will continue his semi-monthly visits to our College during the coming year. These visits are a great treat as well as a great profit to all our teachers and students. This announcement will make them all rejoice. The schedule of recitations will be so arranged as to give the advantage of these uplifting messages to as many as possible.

Student Prospects

More than 100 new students have already indicated their intention of entering McMinnville College at the opening of the Fall term, far more than ever before. This is most encouraging, indicating as it does approval of the policies followed by the College. During the Summer the students have done noble work among their friends. Many of them will not return alone. Professor F. G. Boughton has worked incessantly and most effectively all the vacation, visiting about eighty-five cities and towns in Oregon, Washington and Idaho. Good reports of his work come from all along the line of his travel. He is an excellent sample of the class of men and women who are found on the Faculty of McMinnville College. There are none better!

Special Notices

The Fall term of McMinnville College begins Wednesday, September 18, 1912, at 9:00 a. m.

The Registrar will be in his office on Tuesday, September 17, for the purpose of examining the credits and arranging the courses of new students. Every new student should see him on this day without fail!

The entire day Wednesday will be given to the work of registration. Register as early as possible after 9:00 a. m.

Rev. Claude D. Kelly, D. D., Pastor of the First Baptist Church, San Jose, California, will deliver the opening address at the First Baptist Church at 8:00 p. m. Every student, new and old, should be present. The two new teachers will be introduced. Special music.

DO NOT FORGET that the registration fee of $1.00 is remitted for all registrations made on the first day of the term; one-half is remitted on the second day, and the full fee charged thereafter.

Class work begins promptly on Thursday morning according to the Schedule of Recitations found on Page 38 of the Catalogue. Every period counts.

The RECEPTION TO NEW STUDENTS will be given in Music Hall on Friday evening, September 27, at 8:00 o'clock, by the Christian Associations. All students are invited.

Pastors, Please Announce

Please announce to your people that our College begins its fifty-fifth year of work on Wednesday, September 18, 1912.

In view of the new interest in Christian Education now manifest in the Northern Baptist Convention, will you not preach a sermon early in September on this subject? Some statistics seem to indicate that Baptists have not as large a percentage of their young people in colleges as should by all means be there if we are to take our place in the leadership of the world. Teach your people the value of college training and show them why it should be a Christian training.

Urge the young people of your church to come to McMinnville College. Without reserve you can recommend your own College at McMinnville. There is none better in all the Northwest!

Degrees Conferred in June, 1912

Bachelor of Arts (Standard Course) on Arthur Rufo Blackstone, Cloise Ray Howd, Frances Penley Manley; (Old Course), William Lester Adams, Althea Finley, Elizabeth Collins Mardis, Chester Martin and Ralph Spencer McKee.

Bachelor of Science (Old Course) on Emma Amalia Simonson and Ernest J. Stout.

Bachelor of Music on Miss Kathleen Hinson (Piano).

Certificates of Completion (Amanuensis Course) to John Wilfred Portney, Grace La Liberte and Cleda R. Miller; (Business Course) John A. Grossen, Jr.

Doctor of Divinity upon John Quincy Adams Henry of Los Angeles, California.

Treasurer's Report for 1911-1912

Receipts		Expenditures
Cash on hand June 1, 1911..$	926.14	Salaries	$14,744.50
Tuition fees	9,308.75	Supplies	734.71
Laboratory fees	507.31	Fuel, light and water	537.40
Other fees, incidental, registration	652.00	Grounds and Buildings	167.64
Rents, piano, typewriter, etc.	203.75	Advertising	570.77
Rents of grounds and buildings	225.75	Traveling	470.83
Income from endowment funds	3,643.68	Scholarships and discounts.	2,544.50
$100,000 fund	9,731.67	Interest	2,445.00
Ministerial Aid Fund	35.00	Old warrants	2,133.55
Student aid fund	368.09	McM. Nat. Bank, on notes..	105.75
Annuity fund	1,000.00	Students' aid	319.00
Miscellaneous	40.64	Finance committee	1,000.00
		All other items	564.33
			$26,337.98
Total	$26,705.75	Balance on hand June 1...	367.77
		Total	$26,705.75

STATUS OF CURRENT ACCOUNT

Liabilities		Resources
Due on salaries, June 1, 1912..$	5,617.50	Cash on hand	$ 367.77
Due several funds	574.23	Due from students	477.75
	$6,191.73	Due on pledges	1,607.40
			$2,452.92

MESSAGES FROM PROFESSOR BOUGHTON

Greeting to the New Students

It will almost be time for you to be packing your trunks for the college year when this Bulletin reaches you. I want you to feel that you are coming among friends and that there needs to be no serious period of homesickness. Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. students will meet your trains and help you to find rooms and otherwise get located. I shall meet as many trains as possible myself. It has been a joy to get acquainted with your homes this summer. The prospects are excellent for an increase in enrollment and for a fine student body. McMinnville is noted for its happy partnership between students and faculty, all working together to furnish a product second to none in America.

Be sure to reach here by Tuesday, the 17th, if possible, to get your credits examined and to get well arranged for work at the very start.

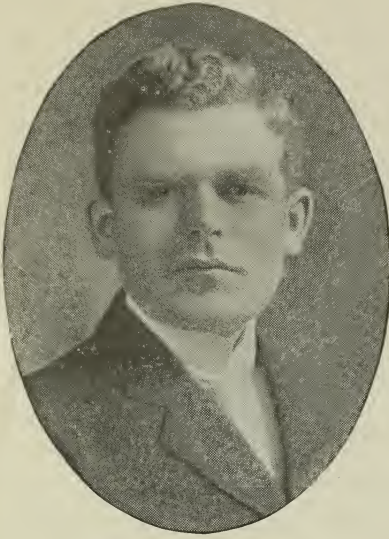

F. G. BOUGHTON, Student Secretary.

To Those Coming in 1913 or Later

I met a host of boys and girls this summer, whose dream is to come to McMinnville some day, when High School days are over, or when more money has been saved up, or when some of the property can be sold, or when the family succeeds in moving to McMinnville, or when the health is sufficiently improved to make it possible. The learning of all these conditions has pulled on the heart strings, and yet one of the largest parts of an education is the mastering of circumstances or the patient adaptation of circumstances, so as to bring about what the Lord is trying to plan for us. I admire the heroism of those who are working hard and economizing, in order to learn how to think and how to live. Such people will find a wonderfully happy companionship in a student-body like ours. Don't give up your plan; nothing is too good for you; spend as many years now for your training as you will wish you had when you get to be eighty years old.

Be sure to write to the President or to myself for any items of information desired at any time.

F. G. BOUGHTON, Student Secretary.

Prof. W. R. Frerichs, A. B.

Mrs. Bonnie Replogle, B. Mus.

New Teachers

After four years of faithful and successful work in the department of Greek and German, Professor Nelson E. Thomas resigned in June to accept a position near his people in Ohio. As his successor the Executive Committee has elected Rev. William R. Frerichs, A. B., of Ducor, California. Professor Frerichs was born in Wilhelmshaven, Germany, received the A. B. degree from Carthage College in 1906 and graduated from Rochester Theological Seminary in 1909. A native German with eight years work in Greek, and successful experience in teaching, will doubtless meet all the requirements of our department of Greek and German.

Not many years ago one teacher of Music sufficed for our Conservatory of Music. Then two were required. Then two with one or more student assistants. Today two full-time teachers are required and one more for half her time. Miss Nettie Leona Foy served in the latter capacity last year with great acceptance, giving the other portion of her time to her studio in Portland. For the ensuing year a similar arrangement has been made with Mrs. Bonnie Replogle. Mrs. Replogle is a graduate of the Frances Schimer School of the University of Chicago, and secured her musical training in the American Conservatory and the Chicago Musical College, receiving from the latter the degree of Bachelor of Music. She has also studied with Leopold Godowsky, of Berlin, Mr. Rafael Joseffy of New York, Mr. Ganz and Mr. William Sherwood of Chicago. She has taught seven years in Chicago and two years at Mt. Morris College in Illinois.

Do Not Hesitate

Parents, do not hesitate to send your sons and daughters to McMinnville College. You can easily find out that our statement concerning the unexcelled atmosphere of McMinnville College is absolutely true. There is more restraining power in such an atmosphere than in all the rules and regulations that can be devised for regular dormitory life. After living in McMinnville's atmosphere students have more fear of returning to their home towns than their parents have of sending them to McMinnville.

L
L645K

912 Dec

THE LIBRARY
OF THE
UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

M'Minnville College Bulletin

Vol. X.

DECEMBER, 1912.

No. 1

Published quarterly by McMinnville College and entered March 2, 1904, at McMinnville, Oregon, as second-class matter under Act of Congress of July 16, 1894.

J. SHERMAN WALLACE, A. M., B. D.

Professor of Bible and Public Speaking in McMinnville College

One year ago Professor Wallace gave to the reading world, thro our American Baptist Publication Society, his first book on "What of the Church?" Recently the second has come, thro Fleming H. Revell Company, on "The Real Imitation of Christ." These books are well worth reading, and will give every reader a nobler conception of Jesus Christ and the church which He has founded. McMinnville College and the denomination it represents have excellent reason to be proud of Professor Wallace and his work both in and out of the institution.

The College Bulletin extends to all its readers the very best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year. The year 1913 certainly gives promise of many things out of the usual order.

The attendance for the Fall term reached 173. Of these students 118 come from Oregon, twenty-nine from Washington, six from California, four from Idaho, three from Montana, three from Canada, two from Colorado, two from the Philippine Islands, and one each from Nevada, Wisconsin, District of Columbia, Alaska, Japan and China.

The Fall term has been by long odds the most successful in the history of McMinnville College. The two new members on the Faculty have proved to be excellent additions, commending themselves in every way. The quality of the new students is first-class, and all of them lined up much more speedily than usual with the high ideals and Christian customs of the institution. There was not a single case of discipline brought to the attention of the Faculty during the whole term. Several were converted and baptized into the membership of the Baptist church.

The opening address in September was delivered by Rev. Claude D. Kelly, D. D., Pastor of the First Baptist Church, San Jose, California. His first appearance before the Faculty and students of the College was very favorable, indeed. His return will be enthusiastically welcomed. Dr. Kelly is indicating his genuine interest in educational work in a way that is likely to be heard from for many days hence.

Dr. W. B. Hinson made his regular visits to the College throughout the term, and delivered two lectures on each occasion. The good done by these addresses cannot be measured. Dr. Hinson has a rare avenue of approach into the heart of a college student. He is becoming more and more popular as the terms pass. His days at the College are the Wednesday after the first Sunday of each month, and the second Tuesday thereafter. He speaks at 11:15, the regular Chapel hour, to all the members of the Faculty and student body, and again at 1:00 to all who find it possible to attend at that hour.

On November 26, 1912, the Conservatory of Music presented the regular number of the McMinnville Lyceum Course. The entertainment gave "One Day in a Student's Life in McMinnville College." It was most entertaining and held the crowded house to a very late hour. This is the third year our Conservatory has thus been placed alongside the best talent the country affords. The funds secured are being used to make our Music Hall more attractive. The College Orchestra did some commendable playing during the evening.

No College in the land ever had a more loyal body of students than McMinnville College now has. While the students in some other classes of institutions are riotously careless of the property of the college, or even destructive of it, the students of "Old Mac" are giving of their meagre incomes in order to improve the property of the College they have learned to love. Last year the Senior Class gave a beautiful pulpit stand for the Chapel and the Commercial students placed a drinking fount in front of the Main Building. At the present time the Chapel is being repapered and repainted by means of funds raised by the entire student body, who will also put a handsome new Axminster rug on the Chapel platform. The Music rooms and the Recitation Hall are likewise being tinted and otherwise improved with funds earned by the students in the Lyceum number. Such self-sacrificing loyalty on the part of the students should certainly stimulate the friends of the College in their giving.

In the death of Mrs. Sarah J. Henderson on November 25, 1912, McMinnville College loses a generous supporter. Mrs. Henderson came to Oregon in 1845 and was a daughter of Rev. Ezra Fisher, who, with Rev. Hezekiah Johnson, was the first Baptist missionary on the Pacific Coast. In 1908 she gave McMinnville College $1,600 for the purchase of a house and land adjoining the Campus. She made frequent contributions to the current expense fund, and by her will after generously remembering other denominational enterprises "provided that McMinnville College should have one-ninth of the residue to be used as a part of its permanent funds or for current expenses. The estate is mostly land and it will be a good while before it can be converted into cash." Here is an example which many Baptists in the Northwest will doubtless follow in disposing of what God has entrusted to them.

With this month our sister institutions, Albany College and Willamette University, are rounding up endowment campaigns, the one for $250,000 and the other for $500,000. The outcome has not yet been announced but both are so near at the time of this writing that the McMinnville College Bulletin feels it is safe to extend congratulations upon the completion of the movements. This means a new era in the history of denominational colleges in Oregon as their success will stimulate the other institutions to similar efforts. In this connection the following from an editorial in the Portland Journal is most significant: "There is no nobler endeavor than the aid extended to the denominational colleges. They are the bulwarks of a stable citizenship. They are the recruiting stations from which leaders are sent out to introduce public conscience into public affairs.

"Dollars invested in education live forever. They are an investment that is perpetual, and that exerts its uplifting influence through all time. It is a legacy to coming generations. Its usefulness never ceases, its service to mankind never ends.

Oregon institutions have been long neglected. They have not been given the support their work so richly merits. They have not been given a chance to keep pace with the growth of the state.

"An enormous per cent of the people are not receiving college training. The two state institutions can accommodate but a small fraction of the population. The denominational institutions must be relied on to help in the great work. There is room and a great field for every denominational college."

HENRY REGINALD BOWLER, A. B.

McMinnville College Holds the Rhodes Scholarship for 1913

The Rhodes Scholarship for 1910 was awarded to Carroll Hill Woody of the Class of 1910. On December 28, 1912, the Oregon Committee of Selection again awarded this coveted prize to a graduate of McMinnville College, Mr. Henry Reginald Bowler of the Class of 1909. Mr. Bowler's competitors were Mr. Luton Ackerson, a Sophomore in the University of Oregon, and Mr. Seta Axley, a Sophomore in the University of California, though a resident of Salem, Oregon. The Committee agreed that this was the strongest company of candidates yet to appear before them; anyone of the three would have made a worthy representative for Oregon at Oxford, yet Mr. Bowler was clearly entitled to the scholarship and it was so awarded. The Committee of Selection is composed of the Presidents of the University of Oregon, Albany College, Pacific University, Willamette University and McMinnville College. Professor Taylor represented President W. N. Ferrin who was in the East. This Scholarship provides its holder with $1,500 with which to pursue a three years' course of study at Oxford, England. Mr. Bowler will make the study of English his specialty. He is a scholarly young man, whose election is another tribute to the value of the threefold training given in McMinnville College. Mr. Bowler is a brother of Rev. W. H. Bowler, the popular and efficient Superintendent of Missions of our Baptist State Convention in Idaho. He will enter Oxford next October.